iPad not included.

The new all-in-one Aluminum Bluetooth Keyboard Case (IPA6000) features a sleek and stylish brushed aluminum finish that matches the iPad2 perfectly, with an integrated keyboard that pairs with the iPad2 quickly and easily over Bluetooth. Precision-cut aircraft-grade aluminum and high-density padding at every corner protect and cushion the screen and sides of the iPad2 while in carrying-case mode.

To use the built-in keyboard, simply remove the iPad2 from the case and place it in a vertical or horizontal position; perform a quick Bluetooth sync with the keyboard and it's ready for use. The keyboard's comfortable, highly tactile response, gives it the same look and feel of a standard laptop keyboard. For multi-tablet households or office environments, the keyboard function is also compatible with any other Bluetooth-enabled device.
